C. The entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date until the filing of the present petition was unintentional. An explanation of the unintentional delay follows. Various facts set forth in this petition are supported by the declaration of Mr. Dale, which is attached.

Prosecution History

1. The above-referenced patent application S.N. 08/983,394 (the '394 Application) was filed on January 20, 1998, claiming priority to International Application No. PCT/US96/12575 filed July 31, 1996 (the "PCT Application"), filed in the name of Intelledge Corporation. The PCT Application claimed priority to U.S. Provisional Application No. 60/001,673 filed July 31, 1995 (the "Provisional Application").
2. On August 25, 1998, a Notice of Missing Requirements was mailed to John England at the law firm of Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret. On September 25, 1998, a Response to the Notice of Missing Requirements was filed by the law firm of Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret. On January 5, 1999, a Notification of a Defective Oath or Declaration was mailed to Mr. England at Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret, alleging that that the name and signature of one of the inventors (Mr. M.C. Phillips) was missing.
3. A Notice of Abandonment in the above-referenced patent application was mailed on January 14, 2000, because Applicants allegedly failed to properly respond to the Notification of a Defective Oath or Declaration. In particular, the applicants allegedly failed to provide an oath or declaration acceptable under 35 U.S.C. §371(c)(4) for entry into the national stage in the United States of America.

The Intelledge Bankruptcy

4. Prior to the abandonment of the '394 Application, Intelledge filed for bankruptcy. Pursuant to an Order of Sale, the intellectual property and other assets of Intelledge, including the '394 Application, were sold at auction by the bankruptcy trustee.

5. On July 1, 1999, prior to the mailing of the Notice of Abandonment, Information Planning and Management Service, Inc. ("IPMS") purchased the assets of Intelledge, including the '394 Application.

6. E.J. Dale, an inventor of the '394 Application, is a principal of IPMS.

7. Mr. Dale caused IPMS to purchase the '394 Application because he believed that a patent to that invention would be valuable.

8. At all relevant times, Mr. Dale never intended for the '394 Application to go abandoned.

9. For a variety of reasons detailed below, from July 1, 1999 to the present, IPMS experienced numerous difficulties in obtaining case files, status reports, and other information relevant to the intellectual property ("IP") purchased on July 1, 1999. With particular regard to the above-referenced patent application, IPMS recently learned of the Notice of Abandonment only after obtaining a copy of the prosecution history of U.S. Application Serial No. 08/983,394 on June 20, 2002.

The Attorneys of Record and Mr. Dale's Initial Attempts to Obtain Information From Them

10. The PCT Application listed Robert S. Beiser of Michael, Best and Friedrich as the Agent. On January 20, 1998, a Revocation and Submission of Power of Attorney was filed in the PCT Application. This Power of Attorney was granted to Mr. England at the law firm of Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret. An Information Disclosure Statement was filed in the '394 Application by Mr. England on March 17, 1998. Originally, Mr. England worked for the law firm of Michael, Best and Friedrich. Subsequently, Mr. England left Michael, Best and worked for the law firm of Sitrick and Sitrick in Lisle, IL. Mr. England subsequently left Sitrick and Sitrick and joined the firm of Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret in Chicago. He then left Laff, Whitesel to work for Snap-On-Tools.

11. The '394 Application file history reflects that on May 22, 1998, a Revocation and Substitute Power of Attorney was filed granting power of attorney to various attorneys at Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret and specified Mr. Charles Laff (Reg. No. 19,787) as the attorney to whom correspondence should be sent. (Attachment A)

12. Subsequently, the Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret firm apparently merged with the law firm of Michael, Best and Friedrich.

Mr. Dale's Diligent Efforts To Ascertain The Status Of The '394 Application

13. On numerous occasions beginning around July 1999, shortly after IPMS acquired the '394 Application, and continuing through the fall of 1999, Mr. Dale attempted to contact Mr. England at Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret, which was Mr. England's last known place of employment at that time. Mr. Dale left messages that were never returned. Eventually, Mr. Dale was told that Mr. England no longer worked at the Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret law firm. Mr. Dale informed Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret that IPMS had acquired the intellectual property of Intelledge and that Mr. Dale was trying to obtain a status report on the Intelledge patent applications. Mr. Dale was told that Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret knew nothing about Intelledge files because Mr. England had left Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret and had taken the Intelledge files with him. Laff, Whitesel informed Mr. Dale that he needed to find Mr. England.

14. Mr. Dale contacted Mr. Grochocinski, Federal Trustee for the Intelledge bankruptcy settlement in August 1999 and arranged to obtain the stored Intelledge corporate files in Mr. Grochocinski's possession. Mr. Dale made numerous attempts to get the files. Mr. Dale learned that these files were taken at some point to an incorrect address and were apparently lost. Numerous efforts have been made to determine what happened to these files, but to date they still have not been received by IPMS or Mr. Dale.

15. In September 1999, Mr. Dale contacted the attorney who filed the bankruptcy for Intelledge and determined that the former chief financial officer ("CFO") of Intelledge had certain legal files which might contain status information on the patent applications. Mr. Dale contacted former Intelledge CFO John Sharwarko in the first quarter of 2000. Mr. Sharwarko indicated he thought Mr. John Noel, a former in-house attorney for Intelledge, might have the files. Mr. Dale contacted Mr. Noel. Mr. Noel searched his files and found some relevant files, which he shipped to Mr. Dale. Mr. Dale did receive these files. In the spring of 2000, Mr. Dale located in these files documents relating to some of the Intelledge intellectual property matters. Some of these materials listed Mr. Bob Beiser of Michael, Best and Friedrich as a contact person.

16. Mr. Dale contacted Mr. Beiser. Mr. Dale informed Mr. Beiser that IPMS had acquired the IP assets from Intelledge and was trying to obtain the status of the applications and copies of the files. Mr. Beiser said that Michael, Best was not prosecuting the patent applications, but that Mr. England was.

17. Mr. Dale was informed that Mr. England had left Michael, Best and had moved on to the law firm of Sitrick and Sitrick in Chicago and had taken the Intelledge files with him.

18. Mr. Dale subsequently contacted the Sitrick firm. At that time, the Chicago office of Sitrick said they did not know where Mr. England was employed, nor did they have an address for him. Mr. Dale again contacted Mr. John Noel, former Intelledge attorney, and Mr. Noel said he believed that Mr. England had gone to Katten Muchin and Zavis, a firm having done other work for Intelledge.

19. Mr. Dale contacted Katten Muchin and Zavis and explained the situation. In the summer of 2000, Mr. Floyd Mandell of Katten Muchin and Zavis indicated that they had been unable to find any record of Mr. England working for them and no record of any of their work for Intelledge involving the patent applications. Mr. Mandell suggested that Mr. Dale contact the Patent and Trademark Office, as one of the inventors, to determine the status of the applications.

20. In the summer and fall of 2000, Mr. Dale contacted the PTO several times. The PTO was able to locate two issued Intelledge design patents with Mr. Dale as inventor, but said that they were unable to locate any other patents or applications in Mr. Dale's name. If Mr. Dale could get specific application numbers, they said they could help.

21. In the fall of 2000, Mr. Dale contacted Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret and, after some effort, was told Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret knew nothing of the Intelledge patent applications and that Mr. England was the person Mr. Dale should speak to.

22. Through mid-2001, Mr. Dale made several attempts to further pursue the status of the files and Mr. England. Mr. Dale spoke to Mr. Beiser at Michael, Best and Friedrich. Mr. Beiser suggested that Mr. David Sitrick at Sitrick and Sitrick in Lisle, Illinois might have additional information on Mr. England. Mr. Dale contacted David Sitrick and he suggested contacting Mr. Barry Sufrin of Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret to find Mr. England.

23. After many unsuccessful efforts, Mr. Dale spoke to Mr. Sufrin in early 2002, who again said Mr. Dale needed to talk to Mr. England and that Mr. England was working at Snap-On Tools in Kenosha, WI. Mr. Sufrin indicated in no uncertain terms that Intelledge owed Laff, Whitesel, Conte and Saret money and that no other help or information would be forthcoming without Mr. Dale paying the debt left by the Intelledge bankruptcy.

24. Mr. Dale contacted Snap-On Tools and they indicated that Mr. England did not work there. Mr. Dale attempted several times to contact Snap-On Tools' Human Resources director Keith Whitehead but was unable to obtain any additional information about Mr. England's whereabouts.

25. At various times throughout 2001 and early 2002, Mr. Dale had several IPMS employees try to locate Mr. England using Martindale Hubbell, local bar associations, the American Bar Association, and Lawyers.com, but their efforts were unsuccessful. Mr. Dale had these IPMS employees attempt to locate former Intelledge employees to see if they might have information that could help. Once again, their efforts were unsuccessful.

26. Mr. Dale also had these employees also try to obtain information from old Intelledge paper files and former Intelledge employees on what the filing and application numbers had been and had them try to contact the PTO for information. In April 2002, they located the PCT filing number. Based on a request to the PTO in May, Mr. Dale received a letter from the PTO dated May 30, 2002. This letter indicated that the status of the PCT Application was that national stage was entered in the U.S. via the '394 Application and that the '394 Application was abandoned.

27. The undersigned obtained a power to inspect the '394 Application file from Mr. Laff (who now is at Michael, Best and Friedrich). Mr. Laff further indicated that he had the '394

Application file, but that it did not include the Notice of Abandonment or the document which was not responded to that caused the application to go abandoned. There was no indication that any attempt was made to reach Intelledge, IPMS or Mr. Dale.

Attempts to Obtain Files and Information from Former Intelledge Executives

28. Due to his inability to find Mr. England, Mr. Dale made several attempts to obtain information from former Intelledge executives. In particular, Mr. Dale spoke several times with Mr. Sharwarko, former CFO of Intelledge. Mr. Sharwarko had administrative responsibility for patent matters at Intelledge and had been the point person for contact with the law firms handling Intelledge patent work.

29. Mr. Dale asked Mr. Sharwarko if he or others at Intelledge had received any subsequent correspondence from Mr. England or any of the attorneys who had responsibility for the Intelledge patent matters. Mr. Sharwarko stated that he had not received any such communications but would let Mr. Dale know if he or others at Intelledge did.

Recent Communications With Mr. Laff

30. On June 9, 2002, Mr. Laff granted Power to Inspect to representatives of Mr. Dale/IPMS to inspect and copy the file history of the '394 Application, which revealed the basis for the '394 Application having gone abandoned.

31. IPMS and Mr. Dale never received notice regarding the Notification of a Defective Oath or Declaration and to the best of his knowledge, nor did Intelledge. For at least these reasons, IPMS and Mr. Dale did not intentionally abandon the above-referenced patent application.

32. The following is a list of Appendices accompanying the present Petition:

APPENDIX A – A copy of the original assignments of the Inventors of the above-referenced invention to Intelledge Corporation.

APPENDIX B – A copy of an order of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Illinois Eastern Division (entered March 2, 1999) ordering, in part, an auction sale of Intelledge Corporation's intellectual property rights.

APPENDIX C – A copy of a "Notice of Filing" prepared by the Trustee in Bankruptcy for Intelledge Corporation stating that a "Report of Sale" was filed with the Clerk of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Illinois Eastern Division on July 1, 1999; and a copy of the "Report of Sale," dated July 1, 1999, acknowledging the sale of Intelledge Corporation's intellectual property rights to IPMS.

CONCLUSION

On the basis of the foregoing, Applicants respectfully request the granting of this Petition so that the application will be taken up promptly, and respectfully request favorable examination at that time.

Respectfully submitted,
